

Protestants Parade on Orange Day

By COLIN FROST
Associated Press Writer
BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Thousands of Protestant Orangemen paraded in Belfast and other parts of Northern Ireland today, marking a victory over Roman Catholics in the Battle of Boyne in 1690.

British troops partitioned this capital and remained on alert elsewhere to prevent new battles between the Protestant majority and the Catholics, who charge discrimination.

Mammoth Protestant demonstrations jammed areas on the fringes of the parade route.

The Order of Orange said more than 20,000 of its members were on parade in Belfast, with 200 bands playing such tunes as "Derry's Walls" and "The Sash My Father Wore."

The sale of alcoholic beverages was banned through Northern Ireland, but more than 4,000 Scots came from Glasgow to march with the Orangemen and they brought copious supplies of beer and whisky.

Along the border with the Catholic-dominated Irish Republic to the south Orangemen made arrangements with southern pubs to send in supplies of drinks.

But many of the banners carried in the Belfast parade were dedicated to temperance and some even pledged total abstinence.

Catholics threw up a barricade in the Flax Street section of Belfast and in another area hoisted the flag of southern Ireland. British troops ordered the barricade dismantled and the flag hauled down in the interest of keeping peace.

Last year, the parades touched off weeks of religious warfare, and tension has been rising since the imprisonment of Catholic leader Bernadette Devlin two weeks ago.

Marches were canceled in two areas of Londonderry County that are predominantly Catholic. Authorities in Belfast ordered considerable rerouting of the local parade to keep it away from Catholic sections.

Thousands of British soldiers, police and men of the Ulster Defense regiment manned a steel curtain across Belfast at dawn. Traffic through the "peace line" dividing the city's main Protestant and Catholic sections was halted.

Squadrons of armored cars and water cannon backed up the troops and police. Crack para-troop commandos of Britain's Special Air Service stood by at Belfast Airport with a squadron of helicopters to rush to any trouble spot.

Liquor sales were banned. The weekend passed peacefully. About 3,000 Protestants paraded without incident to their churches in Belfast Sunday. In Londonderry, 500 Orangemen placed a wreath at the War Memorial and then marched peacefully to church.

A message from Bishop Neil Farren urging Roman Catholics to remain peaceful during the Orange parades was read in Londonderry Catholic churches Sunday.

6 Highway Deaths for Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Six persons lost their lives on Arkansas' highways this weekend.

No deaths were recorded Saturday, one was reported Friday, and five Sunday. All of Sunday's deaths were in separate accidents.

The Associated Press weekend highways death count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

A six-year-old youth was killed Sunday when the Brakes failed on the pickup truck in which he was riding causing him to be thrown through the windshield.

Police identified the victim as Scott Zimmerman, 6, of near Heber Springs, who was riding in a truck driven by Sandra Adcock, 24, also of near Heber Springs.

Three of Mrs. Adcock's children were injured.

Another victim was identified as Ann Morris, 20, of Clebit, Okla., who was killed in a one-car accident near Vandervoort (Polk County) on U.S. 71 Sunday.

Police said the accident occurred when Miss Morris lost control of her car while pouring orange juice from a car window. The car struck a road marker and she was thrown from the vehicle.

Two others in the car were injured.

A woman was killed and her two young sons injured when she lost control of her car near Jacksonville Sunday afternoon.

Police identified the victim as Minnie L. Ashton, 30, of near Jacksonville. Injured were Michael Ashton, 1, and Jess Ashton, 2.

Two persons died in separate early morning accidents Sunday.

Police said Chester C. Johnson, 46, of Kingsland (Cleveland County) was killed when he lost control of his car and it overturned on a county road near Fordyce.

A Memphis man, Carl L. Myers, 35, was killed on U.S. 70, three miles west of Shearerville (Crittenden County). Officers said the car ran off the road, struck a mailbox and then crashed into two utility poles.

Marisol Contreras of Puerto Rico Named Miss Universe, Miami

By TAD BARTIMUS
Associated Press Writer
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) —

The new Miss Universe, Marisol Malaret Contreras, says one of the judges who chose her to represent Puerto Rico in the international beauty contest later became her boyfriend and is now a sad man.

He realizes, she told interviewers Sunday, that he isn't going to see much of her for the next year.

"Truly, he is sad. But I'm thrilled, and I think it will be the most wonderful experience of my life," the jade-eyed beauty said.

Garbed in a sleek navy velvet lounge dress, Marisol conducted her first news conference after five hours of sleep.

Refusing to disclose her beau's name, she said, "I enjoy his company and now that I'm Miss Universe I don't know what will happen between us. There sure won't be much time for dates."

Moments after the retiring Miss Universe, Gloria Diaz of the Philippines, placed the glittering crown on Marisol's auburn tresses Saturday night, the 20-year-old winner made two calls to her native Caribbean island.

One went to the mystery man, the other to her elderly aunt and crippled brother, who were celebrating at her home.

Marisol, a secretary and part-time model, said both her parents are dead, and she is the sole support of the aunt who raised her and the 24-year-old brother, who has been crippled since birth.

Marisol's victory brought her $10,000 in cash, a $10,000 personal appearance contract, $6,500 worth of furs, a wardrobe for a year, hairpieces, hosiery, luggage and cosmetics.

But Marisol said in her Spanish accented English: "Now that I have won, it isn't the money that's important to me—it's the experience to come."

"Just being around all those girls from other places and different backgrounds has taught me a little about how people everywhere are asically the same."

"It was a beautiful feeling, and it showed me there is a real love power among human beings."

"So this year I want to give that love power to everybody I meet—just throw it around all over the world."

Marisol defeated 63 other contestants. Miss U.S.A., Debbie Shelton of Norfolk, Va., was first runnerup.

Relief Force Advances in Cambodia

By JOHN T. WHEELER
Associated Press Writer

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Cambodian forces battled west and north of Phnom Penh today while allied forces claimed more than 400 North Vietnamese killed in five days of attacks near Khe Sanh, in the northwest corner of South Vietnam.

A Cambodian military spokesman said a relief force of U.S.-trained mercenaries was battling an estimated 1,000 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong who on Saturday overran the mountain resort of Kiri Rom, 50 miles west of Phnom Penh.

The spokesman claimed at least 50 of the enemy were killed in fighting Sunday and said the only government casualties reported were 24 wounded Saturday and Sunday.

During the night, the spokesman said, South Vietnamese AC47 gunships attacked suspected enemy positions, and today the enemy force hit the Cambodian troops with mortar and infantry attacks.

Kiri Rom sits atop a 2,000-foot mountain and before the war was a playground of the wealthy seeking a cool climate. The town itself appears to have no military significance.

The spokesman also reported that an enemy raiding party broke through government defenses at the Long Vek munitions depot 30 miles north of Phnom Penh, but a government counterattack pushed it out. No casualties were reported on either side.

The government says it stripped the sprawling arsenal when Viet Cong and North Vietnamese forces began a buildup in the area several weeks ago.

In South Vietnam, government forces reported killing 33 North Vietnamese troops in scattered clashes and finding 26 more bodies in the fifth day of fighting near Khe Sanh.

Allied officers believe their forces may have wiped out the equivalent of a full-strength North Vietnamese battalion—about 600 men—around the abandoned U.S. Marine base.

The report today brought the total enemy casualties to 417 killed and five captured since the first contact was made last Wednesday by helicopter gunships of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division.

It was the biggest enemy casualty toll in a single battlefield action in Vietnam in months.

In Saigon today, a grenade exploded under the car of Pham Duy Tue, secretary-general of the National Assembly's lower house. A guard readying the car to drive Tue to his office and a maid cleaning the vehicle were wounded. Tue was in his home at the time and was not hurt.

The assemblyman said the American-made M26 fragmentation grenade apparently had been placed in a box under the front of the car during the night and rigged to go off when the car moved.

The 29-year-old representative was considered a strongly pro-government politician until he announced his opposition recently to a broad economic and fiscal reform program proposed by the government.

The French Embassy in Phnom Penh reported that three members of a French television team were captured by Communist troops last week in the Angkor Wat area. Two other French journalists had been reported captured there earlier, and it was understood that the embassy was in roundabout contact with the Communists, seeking the release of all five.

Purcell for Repeal of 'Fair Trade'

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — At Gen. Joe Purcell, candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, said Sunday that Arkansas' "Fair Trade Liquor Law" is a form of price fixing.

During the opening of his Little Rock campaign headquarters Purcell said if elected he would work for repeal of the law.

The law sets a minimum markup on the sale of liquor. "That is price-fixing and I'm opposed to any kind of price-fixing," he said.

Purcell called for the establishment of a Board of Agriculture to serve as a liaison agency between government and the agriculture industry.

Again, Purcell said he thought efficiency within the state government operation could produce several million dollars. He said his department had turned back 16 to 17 per cent of its budget each of the three years he has been in office.

He said more money is needed for schools, cities and public employees salaries. Purcell told the people attending the opening that a tax reform could be a great source of income. He said he would review use tax exemptions for utilities.

Home Owners Beat Tight Money Market

By AILEEN SNODDY

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The lag in the new housing market because of tight money isn't keeping the restless housewife from making changes. Couples with growing families and a need for rooms are building, not buying, extra space. Others simply redecorate to give their homes a fresh and refurbished look.

For example, George A. Karl, general manager for a wallcovering firm, points out surveys show remodeling is a decided factor in sales growth.

"Our sales are up 100 per cent over 10 years ago," Karl says, "and this is true of the entire wallcovering industry."

He points out that the growing youth market will help set the pace for materials used. A few years ago, for example, wallcoverings were associated with the geriatrics generation. Now the new young designers are making wallcoverings "in," although Karl still admits a major share of the remodeling market goes to paneling and paint.

A major national paint manufacturer reports a line of Colonial Williamsburg-researched colors are "NOW" in the brick, warm grays, buffs, tans and browns, plus muted blues, greens and warm golds. These tones are reflected throughout drapery and upholstery fabrics, too.

Another decorating trend moving into the remodeling market is the use of wall-scaping. This is carpeting used on the walls for sound absorption and easy maintenance.

The remodeling surge touches many industries. Professional Builder magazine reports that 55 per cent of all builders are engaged in remodeling. Growing need for more space and for better use of existing space has created a boom in the add-a-room or add-on business. Bathroom remodeling, room addition and kitchen remodeling are the top three projects. About 1,627,000 homeowners remodel a bathroom each year and another 1,263,000 add a bath. Kitchens get an overhaul in at least 2½ million homes.

And it isn't inexpensive, even when primarily a do-it-yourself job. A quality bath can cost $2,500 to $4,000, if entirely new space and piping are needed, or $1,500 to $3,000 using existing layout. A kitchen can run $2,000 to $5,000.

An interesting side effect of tight money and rising costs has been a boom in the production of mobile homes. Last year units zoomed to 400,000 and mobile homes now represent one-third of all new single-family dwellings produced in the United States. The Department of Commerce predicts that mobile-home output will grow another 19 per cent.

The government also estimates an increase of 25 per cent in new apartments and in these rabbit-warren homes soundproofing is a major problem. The growing trend is to shut out noise with paneling, wallcoverings, carpeting—all bought, paid for and installed in the name of home decorating.

Wedding Vows Are Repented

MRS. RONALD W. METCALF

Miss Kathleen Annette Guerin became the bride of Ronald Wales Metcalf in a candlelight ceremony at 8:00 P. M. Friday, July 3 rd, in Greene Chapel, at Hendrix College.

Parents of the couple are Dr. and Mrs. David Lloyd Guerin of Conway and Mr. and Mrs. Con Metcalf of Charleston.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Jon Guthrie. Nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Robert Shoemaker, organist.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of miramist over peau de soie. A separate basque bodice of pearl encrusted brocade was worn over the full skirted gown. It featured a chapel train and full bishop sleeves. A tiered veil of illusion fell from the close fitted cap of brocade. Her bouquet was a cascade of stephanotis, gardenias and daisies.

Maid of Honor was Miss Kevin Guerin, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Paul Guerin, sister-in-law of the bride, Miss Lynn Ware of Pine Bluff and Miss Jennifer Lewis of Little Rock. Their gowns were of embossed organza in a pastel floral print over blue peau de soie. They carried colonial bouquets of pastel daisies and wore matching flowers in their hair.

Miss Bridget Guerin, sister of the bride, wearing a matching gown to the brides' attendants, and Peter Guerin, brother of the bride were candlelighters.

Serving as best man was Jody Musgrove of Charleston. Groomsmen and ushers were Bruce Terry of Charleston, nephew of the groom, Paul Henly of Hope, and David, Paul, and Peter Guerin, brothers of the bride.

Spiral candelabra with bridal tapers flanked the altar. Garlands of smilax and daisies were entwined on the candelabra and on the chancel rail. Smilax and candles decorated the bridal aisle.

Mrs. Guerin chose for her daughter's wedding a dress of pale green ribbon knit. Mrs. Metcalf wore a lavender silk dress with a white lace sleeveless coat. They pinned corsages of gardenias and stephanotis to their shoulders.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in Treischmann Hall. A silver candelabra with bridal tapers and mixed spring flowers centered the refreshment table. The tiered wedding cake was topped with matching flowers.

Serving during the reception were Mrs. Fletcher Smith, Jr., Mrs. Robert Morrow, Mrs. Calvin Shock, Mrs. E. P. Young, Jr. and Mrs. George Frazier. Hope, Mrs. Homer Jones, North Little Rock, Mrs. John Nix, Texarkana, aunt of the bride, and Misses Adair Ahock, Katy Dickerson and Judy Warren. Following a short wedding trip the couple are at home in Little Rock.

Age No Barrier To Knit High Style

By JUDY LOVE

Sometimes it's not just what you knit, but whom you knit it for that counts. Knitting for children certainly is a favorite occupation of young mothers and doting grandmothers, not to mention an occasional aunt or two.

Here are five designs to keep all those loving hands busily knitting. These child-sized charmers include short pants for him, a suspended skirt for her plus a Fair Isle-patterned cardigan, pull-over and beanie cap that both can wear. To make the choice all the wider, knitting instructions show how to make the sweaters with either long or short sleeves.

Two shades of Bear Brand or Botany Win-Sport yarn are used in the Avesome. The instructions, which include Fair Isle pattern charts, are written for sizes 1-2 and 3-4.

For your copy of an instruction leaflet, send 50 cents to Stitchin' Time, c/o your local newspaper, Radio City Station, P.O. Box 503, New York, N.Y. 10020. Ask for leaflet No. S138 and be sure to include your name, address and zip code.

KNIT KNACKS

DEAR JUDY — I always make a point of reading quickly through knitting instructions before beginning a garment, just in case I need any advice. And I do. I've just come across the term "twisted stitch." What does it mean?—N. T.

DEAR N. T.—A twisted stitch can be either plain or purled. If it's the plain variety that's called for, here's what you do: Keeping the yarn at the back, insert right needle through the first stitch into the back strand in order to twist. Then knit the stitch as usual.

If it's a twisted purl stitch, the yarn should be in front. The right needle is inserted through the back strand and over the left needle. Pass the yarn over and around the right needle, then draw through a loop and let the stitch slip from the needle on the left.—JUDY LOVE

No Magic Foods To Help Arthritic

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Nutrition Columnist

Rising prices are hitting everyone in the pocket. No one is spared. No, not even those who suffer from the pains of arthritis. They, like the rest of us, must seek ways to cut their spending and still get the food and medications they need.

"Certain rituals, mystic beliefs seem to compel many sufferers of both rheumatoid and osteoarthritis to splurge on products advertised as special cures, products that claim some magic ingredients that will banish pain and crippling," observes William S. Clark, M.D., president and chief executive officer of the Arthritis Foundation.

Dr. Clark continues: "These 'special' products all cost more despite their uselessness. Take 'miracle' foods for arthritis—it may surprise you to learn there are no special diets for arthritis, no specific food that has anything to do with causing it. Nor is there any diet known that can cure you. So think of the money wasted on these advertised 'miracle' foods that promise to cure you. Yet people spend millions of dollars every year buying them. They may get some mystic satisfaction out of their wasted money. But that is about all."

The proper diet for an arthritis patient consists of well-balanced grocery store foods. Nothing unusual and they cost far less than the outlandish kinds of food sold as cures.

Gout is a particular type of arthritis (not usually caused by high living). It does not call for special foods, either. But doctors recommend not drinking beer and not eating kidneys, liver and sweetbreads. There are new drugs which can control gout generally.

"For arthritis, aspirin is the best single medicine. That's the straight scientific truth. Not very mystical, I'll admit. But oddly enough, aspirin when taken properly, helps the victim feel better, move around better, and function better. It does more than relieve symptoms. It actually treats them. It also reduces inflammation," Clark explains.

How you take aspirin and how much are vitally important.

"By aspirin, I mean just that—plain aspirin. Not the highly advertised buffered aspirin, liquid aspirin, coated aspirin or time-release aspirin. These all cost more and as far as aspirin is concerned are no better. It's plain aspirin that actually does the job. And you can buy plain aspirin in bottles of 1,000 tablets at a considerable extra saving," says the president of the Arthritis Foundation.

Herbert Hoover was living in California when he was elected to the presidency.

Baseball's All-Star Game Tues.

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
CINCINNATI (AP) — A battery of National League's biggest guns, led by hometown howitzers Tony Perez and Johnny Bench, should put American League pitching and the fences of Riverfront Stadium to a severe test in Tuesday night's 41st All-Star Game.

National League Manager Gil Hodges and American League skipper Earl Weaver were to announce their batting orders for the mid-season classic today, and it was anticipated that right-handers Tom Seaver, 14-5, of Hodges' New York Mets and Jim Palmer, 12-6, of Weaver's Baltimore Orioles would be named the opposing starting pitchers.

The other NL starters are first baseman Richie Allen of St. Louis, second baseman Glenn Beckert and shortstop Don Jessinger of the Chicago Cubs, third baseman Perez and catcher Bench of Cincinnati and outfielders Hank Aaron and Rico Carty of Atlanta and Willie Mays of San Francisco.

Starting for the AL will be first baseman Boog Powell and second baseman Dave Johnson of Baltimore, shortstop Luis Aparicio of the Chicago White Sox, third baseman Harmon Killebrew of Minnesota, catcher Bill Freehan of Detroit and outfielders Carl Yastrzemski of Boston, Frank Howard of Washington and Frank Robinson of the Orioles.

The pitchers, who dominated All-Star play for three consecutive years until Willie McCovey and Bench powered the Nationals to a 9-3 romp at Washington last July in a game which produced five home runs, will have their work cut out for them again this time.

Each of the starting lineups is six-deep in long ball hitters, with the Nationals showing a 151-133 advantage in homers to date this season.

Perez and Bench are 1-2 in the majors with 29 and 28 homers, respectively. Allen, with 25, Aaron, 24, Carty, 23, and Mays, 19, complete the NL big six.

Heritage Is 3-Time Race Winner

NEW PORT, R.I. AP—Things are looking up for the Florida yacht, Heritage, in the America's Cup observation trials on Rhode Island Sound.

The Heritage, out of St. Petersburg, Fla., and sailed by Charles E. Morgan Jr., scored her first victory of the trials on Sunday and made for more lively competition before the U.S. Cup defender is selected next month for the actual race in September against either a France or Australian challenger.

Heritage, with a new headsail, handed Valiant her third straight defeat by one minute, eight seconds in a race short-ended to 6.8 miles from a scheduled 15.2 miles because of light winds.

Today the Florida 12-meter yacht goes against the California boat, Intrepid which twice whipped Valiant on Saturday. Intrepid beat weatherly in Sunday's other race for her fifth straight victory in the current trials against no defeats.

The current trials will end on Saturday and the final series to determine the U.S. Cup defender for the famed yacht race will start off Newport Aug. 18.

Red Sox Win Two From Cleveland

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
Tony Conigliaro and Billy Conigliaro both hit Fred Lasher Sunday and it was debatable which of the brothers made the Cleveland pitcher feel worse.

Tony C. charged Lasher after being struck on the left arm by a pitch in the first inning of Sunday's nightcap. He kicked Lasher in the hip—the hurler got a tetanus shot for a small spike wound—and punched him in the nose before being thrown out of the game.

Unfortunately for Lasher, umpire Hank Soar let him stick around and Billy C. hit a home run in the second inning that started the Boston Red Sox to an 8-2 victory. They also won the opener 6-2.

"I couldn't think of anything else but to go and get him," said Tony C., who was nearly blinded when struck in the face by a pitch from California's Jack Hamilton in August 1967 and didn't return to action until last season. "There was nothing else I could do."

Sunday's outburst was an aftermath of a July 4 game in which Lasher knocked Conigliaro down with a pitch and then was quoted as saying, "Tell Tony C. he better be a little careful the next time he faces me because he just may get a little jammed."

"He surprised me twice," Lasher said Sunday. "First, Tony surprised me when he came out to the mound. So I got ready for him. But then he surprised me with that kick. Before I could do anything, Carl Yastrzemski grabbed me and pinned my arms to my side."

Soar absolved Lasher of deliberately throwing at Conigliaro.

"The pitch was inside, but it wasn't thrown at Tony," the umpire said.

Tom Satriano and John Kennedy also homered for the Red Sox in the nightcap while Tony C. and Rico Petrocelli connected in the first game. Duke Sims, Tony Horton and Ted Uhlaender cracked home runs for the Indians, who fell into last place in the American League East when Washington beat the New York Yankees 7-3.

Elsewhere in the AL, Baltimore whipped Detroit 13-3 after the Tigers took the opener 7-3, California downed Milwaukee 6-2, Oakland edged Milwaukee 4-3 but lost the second game 2-1 and the Chicago White Sox battered Kansas City 10-5.

In the National League, Pittsburgh shaded St. Louis 7-6 in 10 innings, Montreal beat the New York Mets 5-3, the Chicago Cubs trounced Philadelphia 10-2, Cincinnati nipped Atlanta 6-5, San Diego defeated Los Angeles 4-1 and Houston overtook San Francisco 8-7.

Mickey Stanley, Bill Freehan and Al Kaline belted Detroit homers as the Tigers rocked Dave McNally for seven runs in the first three innings of their opening game. But the Orioles walked three homers of their own.

—by Boog Powell, Elie Hendricks and Merv Rettenmund—and shelled Denny McLain, 0-2, and two relievers for seven runs in the sixth inning of the nightcap to maintain their six-game bulge over the Tigers in the AL East.

The Yankees fell seven games behind Baltimore when Washington rocked Mel Stottlemyre for five runs in the first two innings and breezed behind Jim Hannan. Del Unser stroked a bases-loaded single as the Senators scored four times in the first inning and Paul Casanova homered in the fifth. Ron Hansen homered for New York.

Minnesota grabbed a 2-0 lead over the Angels on Harmon Killebrew's first-inning homer, his 26th. But California shelled Jim Perry for four runs in the fourth on Roger Repoz' triple, Jim Fregosi's single, a walk, Jim Spencer's single and Ken Mullen's two-run double. The Angels added two more in the fifth on a walk, Fregosi's triple and a single by Alex Johnson and pulled within five games of the Twins in the AL West.

Don Mincher's second homer of the game tied the score in the ninth inning and Oakland edged Milwaukee in their opener when pinch hitter John Donaldson singled home the winning run. Gerry McNertney and Dave May homered for the Brewers.

After owner Charles O. Finley gave manager John McNamara a vote of confidence in an unusual between-games news conference, the A's promptly lost the nightcap to Lew Krausse's six-hitter. Tony Harper homered for the Brewers, Bert Campaneris for Oakland.

Luis Aparicio doubled home the go-ahead run in the seventh and Ken Berry shocked a three-run double in the ninth as the White Sox outslugged the Royals despite a three-run homer by the losers' Bob Oliver.

Little League All-Stars Picked for Tournament Play

Nicklaus Wins British Open

By JOHN FARROW

Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — "Let's give Jack full credit," said a disappointed Doug Sanders after losing the prestigious British Open Golf Championship by one stroke to Jack Nicklaus.

Nicklaus, the game's Golden Bear, countered after Sunday's 18-hole playoff: "How lucky can you get? I never expected to be here now. Doug had it all wrapped up on the final hole Saturday. Then he missed that short putt."

Just as the 18th was the crucial hole Saturday at the end of the regulation 72 holes, so it was again Sunday.

Sanders missed a four-foot putt on the 18th green of historic St. Andrews' Old Course, birthplace of the game, on Saturday, forcing Sunday's 18-hole playoff. Dapper Doug, in a prolonged victory drought, earned a three-footer at 18 Sunday for a birdie.

But it was for naught. Big Jack canned a seven-footer, also for a birdie, and it gave him a one-shot victory and his second British Open championship.

Here's how Sanders, the 36-year-old Georgia native with the

16th Win for McLaren Race Team

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. AP—

The British-based team McLaren is to the rich Canadian-American auto road racing series what the New York Yankees used to be to baseball.

If any car-driver combination ever beats them, it will provide the biggest upheaval in recent motorsports history." a 20-year observer of the sport commented Sunday.

New Zealander Denis Hulme had just driven one of the bright orange McLaren-Chevrolets to victory in the third Can-Am of the season a 200-mile over the 2.3-mile Grand Prix circuit at Watkins Glen.

It was the 16th straight win for the McLarens and their 22nd in 25 starts in the million dollar series over a three-year period.

Furthermore, Hulme made it look even easier than in most of the previous races. He got the jump at the start and never was threatened as he drove routinely to his first victory of the season.

New teammate Dan Gurney of Santa Ana, Calif., had won the other two starts beginning with the season opener June 14.

tabled short backswing, described it:

"I'm in a good position on the 18th. Jack is at the back of the green and in what could be tough grass."

"So, I'm thinking if I get a birdie and he gets a five, then I'm the champion. But Jack, being the champion he is, chipped out and got the birdie."

The 30-year-old Nicklaus, describing his winning putt, said: "I almost hit it before I was ready. I told myself to wait for a second and make it right."

Nicklaus carded an even par 72 for the playoff round on the 6,951-yard layout. Sanders finished with a 73.

Nicklaus earned $12,600, but, as usual with major championships, the benefits will be much greater. Nicklaus, one of the few professionals with victories in each of the world's four major tournaments, last won the British Open at Muirhead in 1966.

His last major championship was the U.S. Open in 1967. He also has won the Masters and the PGA, other jewels of golf's Quadruple Crown.

Sanders, with career earnings of over a half-million dollars, finished 64th on the money list for the U.S. tour in 1969 and hasn't won in three years. A colortul dresser who's always ready with a wisecrack or quip, Sanders had to qualify for this year's British Open, which attracted the strongest international field in its 110-year history.

Lee Trevino, the Mexican-American chatterbox from Texas who led the first two rounds, finished in a tie for third.

No Player Forgets 1st All-Star Game

By TOM SEAVER

NEW YORK—(NEA)—For a baseball player, playing in the All-Star Game for the first time is an experience that can never be duplicated. No matter what happens in future games—or for the rest of a player's career—the very first All-Star Game will always hold a special place of honor.

My first game was in 1967 in Anaheim, Calif. It was my rookie season with the New York Mets and, when I was selected to the pitching staff by Manager Walter Alston, I had all of three months' experience in the major leagues. I was the only player from the Mets selected that year and, when I was flying out to California, I thought to myself, "This is a flight to Dreamland."

I was awed by it all. But if anything surprised me about the game itself, it was the enthusiasm of the older players who had played in All-Star Games before. A lot of people think the veterans are just going through the motions during All-Star Games, putting their time in, so to speak, because they have to. Nothing can be farther from the truth.

In Anaheim that year, I remember I was so excited and anxious that I got to the stadium four-and-a-half hours before game time. When I arrived, I figured I was going to be the first one there. But when I walked into the clubhouse, there was Ernie Banks, already dressed in his Cub uniform, and I couldn't help but be impressed. Here was a perennial All-Star and his enthusiasm hadn't waned a bit.

I also remember that Curt Flood was already there, too, and when I walked in, he looked up and did a double take. He said to me, "Who are you?" And I said, "Tom Seaver, Curt, glad to meet you." And he said, "I thought you were the baby, you look so damn young." We both laughed about that, then he said to me, "I don't want to see you hanging around the beer cooler after the game," and we laughed some more.

I got there early, too, because I didn't want to miss a single thing. You never know how many All-Star games you're going to be playing in, so I wanted to make the most of it. I wondered about protocol that day, whether the young players automatically introduced themselves to the older ones, or vice versa. But I quickly discovered there is no protocol—everyone is accepted for what they are, All-Stars. The atmosphere is light and jovial, almost—but not quite—festive.

Another thing that happened to me that day involved Jimmy Piersall, a former All-Star from the other league. I was sitting in front of my locker, soaking in the conversations all around me, when Piersall came over to me, stuck out his hand, and said, "Hello, Tom, I'm Jimmy Piersall and I want to congratulate you for making the All-Star team." I didn't know if Piersall had ever seen me play, but his friendliness impressed me. It made me feel at home, like I belonged there.

Before an All-Star Game, there is a lot of good-natured ribbing, too. That day my locker was right next to Henry Aaron's, and Henry had always been my idol. I remember him saying to me, "Hey, Tom, when you gonna throw me a fast ball, so I can hit a home run off you?" I didn't know quite how to answer him, so I just smiled and nodded.

Willie Mays is another one who is the master at inserting the needle. I remember him saying to me, "Hey, Seaver, I'm an old man now. Lay off that hard stuff, will ya, and start throwing me change-ups." In All-Star locker rooms, Willie always holds court and he has a story or a needle for everyone. One of his favorite subjects is Leo Durocher, and when the Cub players, especially, gather around him, he gives them all an earful.

Sitting in the bullpen that day was, to me, like living a dream. But in the 15th inning, I got the call to come into the game and as I walked towards the pitching mound, all the awe left me. When I got there and threw a few warmup pitches, things came back into focus. I knew who I was, and what I was doing there, and for the first time that entire day, I felt comfortable.

My fourth All-Star Game is coming up July 14 in Cincinnati and, like all the players, I see it as a very special experience. I know a lot has been said and written about All-Star players lacking motivation, but I haven't seen an All-Star player yet who didn't want to be on the winning side in this game. If nothing else, egos are on the line and egos are not to be taken lightly.

A big day in the All-Star game does a lot more for a player's ego than a three-day vacation in the middle of the season.

Lee Trevino, the Mexican-American chatterbox from Texas who led the first two rounds, finished in a tie for third.

He has never won a major championship and Sunday's defeat was a bitter cup of tea because he has been runnerup twice in the U.S. Open, once in the PGA, and also in the 1966 British Open won by Nicklaus.

Lee Trevino, the Mexican-American chatterbox from Texas who led the first two rounds, finished in a tie for third.

Hope Little League All-Star team was selected Friday and will compete in District play in Smackover beginning Tuesday, July 21, where they will meet Arkadelphia at 5:45 p.m. in first round play.

Bishop Walsh May Visit the Pope

HONG KONG (AP) — American Bishop James E. Walsh, freed by Communist China three days ago after 12 years in prison, may be flown to Rome for a meeting with Pope Paul VI when the doctors decide he is fit to travel.

The plan to speed the 79-year-old Roman Catholic cleric to the Vatican was announced today by the Rev. John McCormack, superior general of the Maryknoll Order, of which Bishop Walsh is a member. Arriving from New York, he said the plan was his own and indicated he had not discussed it with the Vatican.

A hospital bulletin reported the bishop was "slightly stronger" after sleeping almost the entire night.

Earlier he had been showing signs of an adverse reaction to the excitement of his release.

After a light breakfast, the bulletin said, routine X rays were made of his chest and back. No tests or treatments were planned for today, the report said, indicating the emphasis is on quiet and rest.

Pope Paul meanwhile sent a cable to Bishop Walsh congratulating him on his release.

In his weekly Sunday address to the noon crowd in St. Peter's Square, the Pope said the release of Bishop Walsh was "good news which awakens the memory for other persons and countries where legitimate freedom is impeded." He expressed hope that Peking's unexpected release of the bishop might be a sign of "better days for the religious freedom in that country."

Bishop Walsh talked by telephone Sunday with his brother and four sisters in Cumberland, Md., and told them their prayers and letters sustained him through his 12 years of captivity.

"I am very happy to be breathing free air again," he told them. "Everyone is being so wonderful to me."

"Jim's voice was so firm and clear," said one sister, Mrs. Frank Werner.

The papal nuncio to China, Archbishop Louis Accogli, arrived from Taipei today to see Bishop Walsh. Shortly after, Bishop Walsh said a concelbrated Mass in his hospital room with Archbishop Accogli, Bishop Francis Xavier Chen Ping Hsu of Hong Kong, Father McCormack and the regional superior of the Maryknoll Fathers, Father James Sullivan.

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Elizabeth Ragsdale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ragsdale of Brinkley, has been selected to represent Arkansas in the Miss American Teen-Ager Pageant to be held Sept. 8-10 at Palisades Park, N.J.

Miss Ragsdale, 17, won the Arkansas contest Saturday night.

Beman Wins Open at Milwaukee

By BOB GREENE
Associated Press Sports Writer
MILWAUKEE AP — A confident Deane Beman withdrew from the British Open to play at Milwaukee because of the warm weather and a chance to get in more practice.

"I was happy about my decision before," he said Sunday, after winning the $110,000 Greater Milwaukee Open golf tournament. "Now I'm elated."

The 32-year-old Beman fired a 12-under-par 276 to capture the $22,000 first place check.

Three strokes back were Don Massena, Dick Crawford and Ted Hayes, all tied at 279.

"I had an exemption and had planned to play in the British Open," Beman said. "But my performance has been mediocre lately and I thought the weather in Milwaukee would be warmer and I could get in more practice."

Beman started the final day in a tie with Massena for the lead at nine-under-par 207. He birdied the second, fourth, fifth and ninth holes on the 7,135-year North Shore Country Club course to make the turn at four under and what proved to be an unbeatable lead. He was one over on the back nine, taking a bogey on the 16th.

"I really changed my tactics after the turn," Beman said. "I was being more conservative."

It was only the second victory for Beman on the PGA tour, with the first coming in last year's Texas Open.

The Bethesda, Md. golfer, who became pro four years ago, turned in his final round of 69 with sparkling iron play.

He blasted out a trap on the first hole to within 12 feet of the pin. And, until he made the turn, it was one of his longest putts of the day.

On two, he hit a four iron to within six feet, the same distance he left a wedge shot on the fourth hole. On No. 9, he rifled a two iron to within five feet of the flag.

Asked if winning a tournament that didn't include the glamour names of gold-all of whom were playing in the more prestigious tournament at St. Andrews, Scotland-Beman politely refused to comment.

"If I had gone over and played as well as I've played here, I might have won it," he said.

11 West Virginia Mines Close

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
At least 11 West Virginia soft coal mines were shut down today as a result of picket lines set up by a dissident pensioners group in defiance of a federal court restraining order.

The United Mine Workers Union asked its members to ignore the picket lines and report to work, but about 3,000 failed to enter shafts in Wyoming County in the southern part of the state.

The picketing pensioners seek reform of the union's pension fund, expanded hospital care for disabled miners and widows, and a general liberalization of benefits.

The work stoppage came as 85 per cent of the nation's coal miners were due back from their annual two-week vacations. Utility firms had hoped for quick replenishment of coal stockpiles for electrical production during the peak summer demand caused in part by the operation of air conditioners.

Wyoming County was one of three target areas selected by the Disabled Coal Miners of Southern West Virginia in its efforts to halt production in the five-state Appalachian coal fields.

Robert Payne of Itmann W. Va., president of the group, told some 75 sympathetic miners at a meeting in Mullens, W. Va., Sunday night that pickets were being dispatched into Wyoming, Raleigh and McDowell counties.

There were no immediate reports of pickets at mines in McDowell County, and miners on the midnight shift crossed picket lines and reported to work at three mines in Raleigh County.

There were no reports of any disruption of work in the four other states of the Appalachian fields—Virginia, Kentucky, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

The court order against picketing had been granted to six coal companies.

Payne and five other members of the disabled miners group were ordered to appear in

LETTERS To The Editor

This is your newspaper. Write to it. Address letters to: Editor The Star, P.O. Box 648, Hope, Ark. 71801.

All letters must be signed, with address, so you are identified to the newspaper staff, but if the character of the letter permits we will allow use of a pen-name in the publication, in which case you should add "Citizen," or some other word below your real name and address.

Pen-names are permitted when a letter deals only with issues. Direct attacks upon public officials, however, must bear the writer's name for publication.

AGAINST CITY MANAGER

Editor The Star: In regard to the city manager versus Mayor-Council form of city government I would point out that the City Manager method of city government is a flagrant disregard of the rights of the people to those who heads their city government.

Under this system, as long as the city manager caters to the whims of a selected few, he can thumb his nose at the rest of us and he literally does just that.

The powers that have been running ads in your paper extolling the virtues of the kind of city government we presently have. They don't tell you that it is virtually impossible for the average citizen to talk to the City Manager and get him to do anything they want done. This man is arrogant and insolent to the average person. He knows he doesn't have to answer to the voters every two years.

When I came to Hope in 1955 there was a sign at the city limits of the city stating the population was 8,605. According to the last census it listed the population as 10,719. A one hundred and fourteen population gain in fifteen years doesn't indicate much economic progress to me.

In closing I would like to say that the Mayor-Council form of city government could do everything the city manager could do, if money was made available to it that has been made available to the city manager. It could be just as efficient and more so because the mayor would know that the voter would decide whether to replace him or not. Pine Bluff and many other cities in Arkansas have the mayor-council form of government, and their city government affairs are handled much more efficiently. Many cities in Arkansas with much larger populations than Hope have the Mayor Council city government.

Sincerely,
JIMMY RINEHART

COURTHOUSE LAWN

Editor The Star: Our Court House lawn is beginning to look like a cow pasture. They trimmed some trees over there more than a month ago and that brush is still piled up on the Court House lawn. And the grass is over knee high in places.

I phoned the County Judge's office about a week ago, and called attention to this mess on U.S. District Court in Bluefield, W. Va., this morning with membership rosters and all financial records of the organization.

A spokesman for Payne said the six men would tell the court they had not been given sufficient notice to prepare for the hearing.

The five-state area which the pensioners seek to shut down accounted for 410 million tons of coal in 1969—72 per cent of the nation's production.

Mine employment in the area in 1969 was 109,000, or 81.5 per cent of the nation's total of 131,000.

Pulaski Jail Denounced by Judge

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Circuit Judge Steel Hays says conditions at the Pulaski County Jail are not "consistent with reasonable standards of treatment of people charged with the lawn, but it's still there."

It's getting to be pretty much of an "eye sore" to some of us who live across the street and have to look at it every day.

Sincerely,
Local Citizen

"Service Above Self," the Rotary club motto, was the theme of a message brought by Rotary District 617 Gov. Don Phillips of Arkadelphia at the weekly luncheon meeting of Hope Rotary Club last Friday in the Town and Country. He stressed various kinds of service—club service, community service, and international service—and encouraged the Rotarians to practice them.

"What is Rotary?" he asked and then answered his own question by defining it as "men growing in fellowship and responsibility to others."

Club President C. R. (Dick) Moore presented a past president's pin to Benny Coleman, and Rotarian G. G. Medders presented on behalf of the club a yellow orchid to club reporter Mary Anita Laseter before her departure on a trip to Hawaii.

Besides the speaker, other guests at the meeting were Thad Holt of Harrison, Pete Shields, Jr., and Rudolph Vick. At a board meeting the previous night, Gov. Phillips gave helpful suggestion on how to meet, investigate and solve problems of the club.

violations of the law" and urged that the conditions be improved.

Hays said in a letter to County Judge B. Frank Mackey that he toured the jail two weeks ago and that the prisoners needed relief from the heat during the summer.

Hays, who was appointed to the position recently by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, said in the letter that the prisoners were "entitled to certain standards of treatment."

An air force spokesman in New Delhi said only the pilot, who recently qualified to fly, was aboard the aircraft.

The chief administrative officer of Jamnagar, located on the Gulf of Kutch 300 miles northwest of Bombay, confirmed that the bodies of seven civilians had been recovered from the debris.

Reports from the city said the plane slammed into a garage and touched off a fire that engulfed two nearby buildings.

Among the injured were six boys playing in a school yard.

In addition, it coined 92 million six-pence, 47 million three-pence and 219 million pennies under the current system. The mint also produced 311 pieces for the Bahamas islands, British Honduras, Bahrain, Brunei, Ceylon, The Congo (Kinshasa), Gibraltar, Malawi, Switzerland and Vietnam.

Twenty-five players from South America were signed to organized baseball contracts last March and the world champions have yet to sign one.

Oswald: "Some years ago, I watched a pretty good player struggling with a doubled contract. He was so sure that the doubler held all four missing trumps that he made a safety play to guard against that bad break after both opponents had followed to the first trump lead."

Jim: "That was more of getting a fixed idea and forgetting that you could change your mind after additional information."

Oswald: "Here is another example. I was South in a rubber bridge game. My bidding wasn't too scientific but my partner wasn't much of a player. I bid the slam by guesswork."

Jim: "You might well have been entitled to mark your partner with better than three high-card points. How did you make your contract?"

Oswald: "It wasn't as a result of my good play. West opened his king of spades. I took my ace and promptly led a heart toward dummy's queen. West went right up with his ace and played his queen of spades. This friendly play set up the rest of dummy's spade suit. I had nothing left to do except to draw trumps and pick up the marbles."

Jim: "The slam contract wasn't too bad on the surface but the combination of three trumps to the jack and a diamond shortage in the East hand with four spades in the West hand doomed you to defeat without West's help."

Oswald: "It was all a matter of the fixed idea. West planned to set up his spade trick. His opening lead was fine but when he got in with the ace of hearts it really required just a little further study of the dummy to see that, if his queen of spades was going to be a winner, there would be no way for South to take it away from him and he could wait."

Jim: "Haste sure made waste for poor West!"

Pacifier Is Better Than Thumbsucking

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—My daughter, 2, still has to have a pacifier when she sleeps. She loses it four or five times a night and I have to get up and find it for her. Her face around her mouth is broken out and I'm sure it is caused by the pacifier. I changed from a rubber to a plastic pacifier but this didn't help. What do you suggest?

A—A pacifier does beat thumbsucking. Most children give it up at about age 2. I would not refuse to let your daughter have her pacifier at bedtime but you should firmly refuse to retrieve it for her during the night. This will be rough on both of you at first but she must learn that others have rights, too, and the sooner she learns this the better.

Now that she has a few teeth you should take the pacifier away from her if she chews pieces out of it. The rash may indeed be caused by the pacifier. Your doctor can determine this by means of a patch test. Meanwhile, you may want to apply Vaseline Cream, a prescription item, two or three times a day.

Q—I recently heard that some mothers dip a pacifier in honey and give it to their babies to stop their crying. Do you approve?

A—This lazy habit is not recommended because it spoils the baby's appetite for essential foods and leads to tooth decay. These mothers should find out what is causing the baby to cry, remove the cause and give him an added dose of tender loving care.

Q—My daughter, 12, has a loose piece of cartilage in her knee joint which hurts her sometimes when she walks or bends her knee. What is the cause and what treatment do you advise?

A—In most cases no cause for these loose bodies can be found. The best treatment is surgical removal.

Q—Our son, 16, has popping of his knees, elbows and fingers when he bends them. What causes this and what can be done about it?

A—This is caused by a tendon snapping across a bony prominence. It is unusual to have so many joints involved. The condition is not serious but it can be controlled by avoiding sudden movements.

Q—Our son, 5, eats well and is very active but he passes gas all day. Our family doctor says there is nothing wrong with him. What do you advise?

A—Cut down on his intake of potatoes, corn, beans, peas and rice. Such defoaming drugs as Festal, Mylicon, Phazyme and Silain may be helpful.

Star Recommends That You Vote Against the Mayor-Council Proposal on Tuesday

On Tuesday the voters of Hope will cast their ballots on the referendum question whether to throw out the present city manager form of government and return to the old mayor-alderman system.

Since the ballot proposal is FOR the mayor-alderman system, if you wish to retain the city manager system you should mark your ballot AGAINST—as indicated in The Star's sample ballot inserted in this article.

Your editor will vote AGAINST the mayor-alderman proposal—sustaining the government

Star's Ballot SPECIAL ELECTION CITY OF HOPE, ARKANSAS JULY 14, 1970

Vote on measure by placing an "X" in the square above the proposal either for or against:

FOR the proposition to reorganize the City of Hope, Arkansas, under the MAYOR COUNCIL form of government

AGAINST the proposition to reorganize the City of Hope, Arkansas, under the MAYOR COUNCIL form of government

It is proposed to reorganize the City of Hope, Arkansas, under the MAYOR COUNCIL form of government as distinguished from the form of government under which the city is now being operated. If a majority of the votes cast at this election be in favor of the proposition, and no suit is brought to contest the election within 30 days, the results will be so certified. Thereafter, the city will proceed to elect officials in the manner and at the time provided by law for the election of municipal officials in cities operating under the Mayor Council form of government. If, on the other hand, the proposition is defeated, the City of Hope will continue to operate under the City Manager form of government as now provided by law.

we now have—and thinks you would be wise to vote the same way.

Like some other citizens I have grievances against the city manager operation. I object to this relatively well-off city's constant borrowing of funds from a debt-ridden federal government without once giving the local voters a chance to vote on these inflationary schemes which are daily raising the cost of living.

Specifically, I think the voters should be offered a referendum on the upcoming welfare program for property owners known as "Urban Renewal."

Another objection I have to current city government is its failure to make definite future plans for construction of a water pipeline to Millwood Reservoir regardless of expense.

But these are questions which may still be resolved by referendum or court action—to make them an excuse for overturning our entire system of city government would seem foolhardy to those of us who experienced the closing years of the old mayor-alderman regime.

When I came to Hope the first of 1929 we did have a good government under the mayor-alderman system. Perhaps it was because the mayor and aldermen were virtually salaryless.

But that era passed. Salaries became prodigal—and pretty soon the city government's demands upon the municipally-owned Water & Light Plant became dangerously high.

So high in fact did these demands become that your editor brought up the idea of a politically-independent Water & Light Plant Commission and helped draft the legislation that finally created it.

Some politically-minded citizens never can forget that the City is supposed to always have on hand half-a-million in cash. What they forget, however, is that this is the working capital of the Water & Light Plant—a 2-million-dollar business which requires half a million working capital.

Today this half-million is locked up in the custody of the Plant commission, which must consent to its withdrawal by the city government.

But in the long run, should you loose a conservative city manager government and go adventuring with a mayor-alderman system, you must recognize that over a period of years the politicians in a mayor-alderman government could eventually replace the Plant Commission membership and disperse the plant's vital funds—the very threat that caused citizens to throw out the mayor-alderman government and install the city manager system nearly two decades ago.

I am not bound to the city manager system forever—but I'm going to vote against returning to the mayor-alderman plan on Tuesday.

Soviet Aid to Egypt Stepped Up

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON AP — The Soviet Union has sharply increased its shipments to Egypt of late, including amphibious troop-landing craft, according to Assistant Secretary of State Joseph J. Sisco.

The State Department's chief Middle East expert noted Sunday the offensive nature of the landing ships, but refused to pinpoint their use for any possible Egyptian crossing of the Suez Canal against Israeli positions.

Sisco, while repeating administration determination to prevent a shift of the Mideast military balance in favor of the Arab states, refused again to say whether a decision has been made to sell additional war planes to Israel.

However, he went on, "The President has made it very clear that we intend to support the security of Israel and I think that you can take that at face value."

Sisco spoke on the NBC interview program "Meet the Press." Sisco's cautious, if ambiguous, statement on the plane sale came as it was learned the administration has agreed to replace F4 Phantom fighter-bombers Israel has lost recently to Arab antiaircraft guns and missiles.

Although the Defense and State departments and the White House made their usual "neither confirm nor deny" statements Sunday, government sources said Israel will get the Phantoms under a flexible program aimed at offsetting increased Soviet involvement in the Mideast.

It was indicated Israel has gotten no U.S. commitment to a specific number of the powerful jets, but at the same time there were signs the supply of Phantoms will depend in part on future Soviet moves.

It is understood American electronic equipment combat-proved in Vietnam and capable of jamming the SAM radars and radio devices is being shipped to Israel.

Newsweek magazine in reporting similar developments Sunday added it had learned the first shipment of U.S. planes to Israel will include eight Phantoms.

The magazine said Israel had been assured the United States would send two Phantoms a month for an indefinite period, starting in August.

Sisco, when asked specifically about the Newsweek report, came up with the familiar response: "I am not going to get into details about what we are doing, or may have done, for Israel; he added there are no plans "for involvement of American forces" in the Mideast.

Norwegian Sails His Egyptian-Type Boat Across the Atlantic

By WILLIAM F. NICHOLSON
Associated Press Writer
BRIDGETOWN, Barbados (AP) — After a two-month transatlantic crossing that he says proves the Egyptians could have discovered America 4,000 years ago, Thor Heyerdahl and his seven international crewmen planned to haul their waterlogged papyrus boat Ra II out of Bridgetown's harbor today prior to shipping it back to Europe.

The 55-year-old Norwegian explorer and his crew spent their first night ashore Sunday after completing their 3,200-mile crossing that began May 17 in Safi, Morocco.

Claiming that the successful completion of his epic journey proved the ancient Egyptians could have crossed the Atlantic, Heyerdahl declared as he stepped ashore late Sunday afternoon: "This is a great, great, great moment. We have definitely proved that papyrus is seaworthy."

Only the Ra's pointed prow and stern sections were above water, and the government tug Culpepper towed it the last eight miles into harbor. But officials said the Ra could have made Bridgetown unaided; she just needed assistance to complete the journey before dark. Heyerdahl's first attempt last year to prove his theory ended 600 miles short of Barbados when the Ra I, a larger copy of the Egyptian boats shown on ancient tomb carvings, broke up in high seas.

Prime Minister Errol Barrow led welcoming officials, declaring: "This has established that Barbados was the first landing place for man in the Western world."

Heyerdahl, who sported a long beard grown during the voyage, also commented that the voyage showed "that eight men from eight nations on both sides of the political fence, black, white and yellow, of all different religions and backgrounds," could "live together like one family in a small cabin, 6 feet by 18 feet." The Norwegian skipper's crewmen were from Egypt, Mexico, the Soviet Union, the United States, Italy, Japan and Morocco, and they sailed under the blue and white United Nations flag.

Mobs Erupt in Cities of Michigan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Twenty persons were arrested in Michigan City, Ind., Sunday during a second night of disorders as Negroes hurling bricks and rocks at cars roamed streets in the predominantly black north side.

Elsewhere, there was a second night of clashes in Highland Park, Mich., but a tight curfew virtually halted four days of racial violence in New Bedford, Mass.

Two nights of disorders in Michigan City brought 150 National Guardsmen to join state and local police in enforcing a 9 p.m. to 6 a.m. curfew and preventing gatherings of groups of four persons or more in off-curfew hours.

Police Chief Leon Shiparski said the trouble began after three blacks were arrested in a downtown tavern for disorderly conduct.

In Sunday night's disorder, police reported sporadic fire from snipers but said no one was hurt. A white man was pulled from his auto and beaten. He was hospitalized in fair condition.

About 15 per cent of the city's 38,000 residents are black.

In New Bedford, police Capt. Harry Kenyon said blacks there had set up barricades on several streets in the mainly Negro section of the city's West End. The area was quiet and police stayed out.

Twelve persons were arrested for curfew violations. Disorders began Wednesday when police arrested a Negro on a driving charge and a scuffle ensued.

May Offer Bonus for Guardsmen

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON AP — The Pentagon is considering special cash bonuses to lure young military veterans into the National Guard and the reserves.

Officials declined to say how big such bonuses might be, but one authority said "they'd be enough for a young fella to make a down payment on a car."

Some key authorities believe bonuses, along with other benefit inducements, may be necessary to keep the guard and reserve at full strength as draft calls decline.

Officials also view this approach never before tried with the reserves as a way to build up the combat readiness of the backup forces by attracting men with service experience.

If approved, the bonuses would be offered only to what are called "prior service personnel" for both enlistment and re-enlistment in the guard or reserve. Legislation would be required to authorize such payments.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has stressed his belief that the nation's nearly one million man guard-reserve structure will become increasingly important in the coming years as the size of U.S. regular forces is cut.

The biggest problem facing the Pentagon in maintaining the strength of the backup forces centers in the Army National Guard and Army reserve.

City to Vote Tuesday on Mayor Plan

Tuesday is election day in the City of Hope and voters will decide whether to keep the present city manager form of government or return to the mayor-council type of administration.

The nine voting places are: Ward 1-A, Hope Fire Station; Ward 1-B, James Motor Company; Ward 1-C, Green Laiter HD Club building; Ward 1-D, Jones Field House; Ward 2-A, Third floor courtroom in the Courthouse; Ward 2-B, courtroom on the first floor; Ward 3, W.O.W. Hall; Ward 4-A, Hope City Hall and Ward 4-B, Hope Youth Center. The polls open at 8 a.m. and close at 7:30 p.m.

The ballot reads: FOR or AGAINST the proposition to reorganize the City of Hope, Arkansas, under the mayor-council form of government.

If a majority of the votes cast in the election are in favor of the proposition, and no suit is brought to contest the election within 30 days, the results will be so certified. In this case, the city would revert to use of the ward system; that is, the election of two aldermen from each of Hope's four wards. Also, the mayor, city clerk, treasurer and city attorney would have to be elected by the people. These positions would be on the general election ballot in November.

If, on the other hand, the proposition is defeated, the City of Hope will continue to operate under the city manager form of government as now provided by law. In this case, four positions for the City Board of Directors will be open on the general election ballot. These are now held by Clyde Fouse, Lester Sizem, Leonard Ellis and Mayor Frank Douglas.

Faubus Says No Link to ALT Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Former Gov. Orval Faubus said Sunday that his administration could not be blamed for any part in the bankruptcy case of Arkansas Loan & Thrift Corp.

Faubus, who is seeking the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, said if he had been aware of the "wrongdoing" he would have "straightened it out."

AL&T was declared insolvent last year and a number of persons, including Bruce Bennett, who was the state's attorney general under Faubus, face federal charges of fraud in AL&T operations. Bennett has not come to trial on the charges because of illness.

On KTHV's "Face the State" program, Faubus said it was "unfortunate" that AL&T had "mismanaged and defrauded a lot of people."

During the television interview, Faubus denied that he had received a memorandum on AL&T or that it had come to his attention.

When asked why he had not enacted prison reform during his 12 years in office, Faubus said he had implemented some reform, but he said education and other needs took priority over the prisons.

"We simply could not do all of them at once," Faubus said, "and I felt that decent, honest people, taxpayers, workers, should have priority over these people who were convicts."

Faubus said he had supported George Wallace for president, but that if he were elected governor he did not think he could support Wallace again.

Lester Gibbs of North Little Rock, a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, appeared on a separate portion of the program.

Gibbs said additional staff was needed to enforce the state's pollution laws. He said the laws were there and all that was needed was the staff.

Deadline on GI Home Loans 25th

By JERRY T. BAULCH
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON AP — The deadline for World War II GIs to apply for Veterans Administration home loan guarantees expires July 25 but Congress is moving to save and perhaps expand the program.

Under bills being considered, Congress may reopen the program to millions who passed it up by knocking out the eligibility deadline for veterans of World War II as well as GIs who served in Korea, the post-Korea era and Vietnam.

Several such bills have been introduced and the Senate has held hearings on one sponsored by Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., and backed by the White House.

The Senate Bill, as it seems to be shaping up, would knock out all deadlines—present and future—on GI home loans. Several bills are in the House Veterans Affairs Committee, which will hold hearings this week, including one by Chairman Olin E. Teague, D-Tex., to knock out the deadline only for those now still eligible.

At present about 1.4 million World War II veterans remain eligible.

Moon Rocks Trigger Search for Same Materials on Earth

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 120 pounds of lunar samples brought back by the Apollo 11 and 12 moon missions have touched off a search for similar materials on earth, according to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

As the space agency has said before, the samples indicate no life exists on the moon, but scientists still are trying to determine why some plants grow better in lunar soil than in earth dirt, NASA said.

In a news release in anticipation of the July 20 anniversary of the first manned landing on the moon a year ago, NASA said:

"Although the gross chemical properties of the moon rocks resemble terrestrial volcanic rocks in some respects, the lunar rocks have some highly significant differences such as an unusually high titanium content, an unusual distribution of rare earth elements, and low water content.

"The unusual properties have spurred on geologists here on earth to find similar materials.

"Already closer equivalents of lunar volcanic rocks are being reported from Idaho, Sweden, Brazil, and the mid-Atlantic Ridge."

More than 150 scientific groups in the United States and abroad are taking part in detailed analysis of the fine-grained lunar dust and the moon rocks. In many respects the lunar material is similar to lava flows of Hawaii and other areas.

"While there is ample evidence of high-speed impacts by meteorite particles on the moon, there do not appear to be major recent upheavals generated by the moon itself," the agency added.

"Exposure age determinations on lunar rocks indicate that they have lain within a few feet of the lunar surface for 200 to 500 millions of years.

"The effects of the meteorite impacts seem to be in the nature of a stirring action, or 'gardening,' of the lunar top soil."

The lunar rocks, and aluminum foil exposed to the sun by the astronauts, also have shown evidence of effects of bombardment by solar wind greatly in excess of predicted values, NASA said.

This has led one scientist to state that the proper way to study the sun is through samples collected from the moon.

Californian Held in Hope Burglary

City police are holding Theodios Johnson of Los Angeles as a suspect in the burglary of Hardee & Son Grocery on N. Hazel St.

Missing from the store is a small safe containing cash and other valuables.

The investigation continues with Capt. Milton Mosier and Investigator Carrol Page of Nashville in charge.

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller will speak at 6:30 p.m. today at the fairgrounds here for the opening of his Forrest City regional campaign headquarters.

A spokesman said the ceremony will be held at the fairgrounds because the regional office is not large enough to accommodate the number of people expected to attend.

2 Traffic Accidents Reported

Hope Police Dept. investigated two accidents Saturday, both on N. Greenwood St.

The first, at 1:10 p.m. involved cars driven by Yancey Carrigan and James Benton, both of Hope. No charges were filed as both cars had been moved. Officer Richard Rowe investigated.

At 11 p.m. Saturday, a late model station wagon ran a stop sign and was hit by a car driven by Earnest Morton of Rt. 1, McCaskill. Driver of the station wagon could not be identified because it left the scene of the accident. Minor damage resulted to the Morton vehicle. Officer Jesse Brown investigated.

City police week-end report: 6 license and 2 liquor violations, 4 cases of drunkenness and 5 driving while intoxicated.

Israelis Invade Jordan

By MICHAEL GROSS
Associated Press Writer
TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli troops crossed the Jordan River early today and wrecked a Jordanian army cluster of bunkers and trenches used as a forward base by Palestinian guerrillas, the Israeli military command announced.

A spokesman said at least four Jordanian soldiers were killed in the 2½-hour attack on the hilltop outpost just east of the river. Israeli losses were reported as one killed and eight wounded.

The spokesman said the Israeli troops opened fire from the barbed wire around the post, occupied it and blasted the bunkers and trenches before withdrawing with captured small arms.

Jordanian support units fired mortars at the position while it was occupied by the Israeli raiders.

The spokesman said the post, nine miles south of the Sea of Galilee and less than a mile from the river, was an operational base for terrorists attacking Israeli settlements in the Beisan Valley.

The raid apparently was in retaliation for rocket and mortar attacks for five days last week on collective farms in the area. Israeli planes made two attacks Sunday on sites in Jordan which the Israeli command said were used by Palestinian guerrillas.

The Jordanian version of the ground attack early today said two Jordanian soldiers were wounded and that Jordan patrols inflicted heavy casualties on the raiders and captured several cases of ammunition and military equipment. But a spokesman said 4½-hours after the Israelis were driven back across the river, Israeli helicopters machine-gunned a sparsely populated area south of the Dead Sea, killing two civilians and wounding two others.

In southern Israel, meanwhile, Israeli troops reported they killed four Arab guerrillas in a night pursuit in the Negev desert after a rocket attack on the Tiltah copper mine, 14 miles north of the port of Eilat and less than a mile from King Solomon's mines. A spokesman said although a number of Katyusha rockets were fired at the mining complex, there were no reports of casualties or damage. Arab guerrillas in Lebanon fired rockets at the Israeli resort of Nahariya, on the Mediterranean, Sunday but an Israeli military spokesman said the rockets exploded harmlessly in a field.

The Israelis said other Arab guerrillas in the hills of south-east Lebanon fired mortars and rockets on the Israeli border settlements of Banias and Kiryat Shmonah. A spokesman said two civilians were wounded in Banias, and one man was wounded and 10 apartments damaged in Kiryat Shmonah.

Israeli warplanes also made their daily raids on Egyptian army targets along the Suez Canal Sunday, the command said. An Egyptian military spokesman said anti-aircraft fire repelled the planes before they caused damage or casualties.

The Egyptians reported two of their army units crossed the canal Sunday night and attacked Israeli positions in the southern sector. An Egyptian military spokesman said the soldiers "overran Israeli bunkers at the north end south of Shatt, inflicting heavy casualties on the enemy." But an Israeli spokesman denied the Egyptian report, saying: "We have not even found signs that they crossed."

In Washington, U.S. government sources said the United States is moving secretly to replace Israel's losses of F4 Phantom fighter-bombers and to provide equipment to jam the Soviet anti-aircraft missiles stationed in Egypt. The sources said the idea is to maintain a military balance between the Israelis and Egyptians despite the growing Soviet military support of the Arabs.

Newsweek magazine said eight Phantom are being shipped to Israel, and that President Nixon has assured the Israelis they can count on two Phantom a month for an indefinite period.

Israel's Premier Golda Meir said her government "opposed" any move to Egypt two weeks ago but never received a reply. The French news magazine L'Express, Mrs. Meir said, her government had done "everything" for peace.

Gilbert, 'Robt. E. Lee' Author, Dies
LOS ANGELES (AP) — The songwriter Congress once named "Dean of American Composers" and who turned out the classics "Ramona" and "Waitin' for the Robert E. Lee" is dead of a stroke at age 83.

L. Wolfe Gilbert died Sunday in a convalescent home after a year's illness. "America has no folk music because America has no folk," he once told an interviewer. "It's a melange, a potpourri, born of the soil." In 1927 Gilbert started writing a song the moment Charles A. Lindbergh began his historic flight across the Atlantic. "Lucky Lindy" became a national hit. "Green Eyes" was another of Gilbert's top tunes. said, her government had done "everything" for peace.

New Controls Aimed at Defense Dept.

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee will recommend tight new controls on the way the Pentagon pays defense contractors traveling the financially risky road of research, sources say.

These sources, close to the committee's work, calculate the changes could mean a $100 million cut in funds for private industry research, which in the last five years cost at least $759 million for running IR & D, B & P and OTE.

Those aren't railroads. The initials stand for Independent Research and Development, Bid and Proposal and Other Technical Effort—the three categories of the Pentagon's program covering reimbursement for private technical-effort expenses. Although no one knows for certain where the road leads until it gets somewhere, research contractors contend dereliction of the IR & D, B & P and OTE would be a disaster for them.

The new arrangements would cover all three categories—not just IR&D, which Sen. William and for the future security of the nation.

This once-obscure system for carrying researchers on otherwise-financially impossible trips into unknown realms has become a source of increasing concern among economists.

Following lengthy hearings by a Senate subcommittee headed by Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre, D-N.H., the Armed Services Committee has prepared proposals for new controls aimed at improving the research program.

The programs pays the expenses of a company undertaking research largely at its own initiative rather than under terms of direct contracts with the Defense Department.

The committee will recommend the Pentagon negotiate advance agreements with all contractors who received more than $2 million in IR & D, B & P and OTE payments during the previous fiscal year.

There would be no major boost in the number of individual negotiations because the number of contractors covered under the new provision would be about 50-roughly as many as under current advance agreements.

The new arrangements would cover all three categories—not just IR&D, which Sen. William

Airlines Say Traffic Aid Costly

By VERN HAUGLAND
AP Aerospace Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The world's major airlines are battling a plan by American and European space agencies to set up a costly satellite system for control of air traffic across the North Atlantic.

The airlines contend the proposed system, which the space

Proxmire, D-Wis., calls "A back door boondoggle."

B & P expenditures are incurred in preparing bids on or proposals for new weapons systems or components to the Pentagon.

The difference between B & P and I R & D is in the purpose for which the work is done. While I R & D has a more general aim of developing processes, products or service capabilities.

OTE covers a group of miscellaneous technical activities—a hybrid grouping which has grown as an accounting convenience.

agencies say would be a valuable aid in preventing collisions in skies becoming more crowded by the month, is premature and too expensive.

In an effort to resolve the dispute, the Federal Aviation Administration and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration have invited the domestic and foreign airlines and their trade organizations, the Air Transport Association and the International Air Transport Association, to a special briefing here Aug. 12.

NASA has budgeted $3 million for study of the system during the current fiscal year.

The airlines, through ATA and IATA, have said they don't need such a system for some years and don't want to be saddled with its cost.

Dr. Richard Marsten, director of NASA's communications satellite program, told newsmen recently a prototype satellite air traffic control; system costing $70 million could be established over the North Atlantic by 1975.

He said that within five years the proposed system could help U.S. airlines avoid delays on trans-Atlantic routes that would cost them more than $400 million.

Marsten said the prototype system could lead to an advanced automatically operated type in the early 1970's and give pilots continuous and exact knowledge on their location throughout a flight, both with regard to other aircraft and in relation to the ground.

With trans-Atlantic traffic doubling by 1975 and doubling again by 1985, he said, the system would be a valuable aid to avoiding collisions.

In mid-June IATA and ATA declared the NASA-ESRO proposal was economically unjustified and unrealistic and they would refuse to support such a program through air charges or by carrying airborne equipment at airline expense.

Estimating the system would cost between $120 million and $150 million, they said the plan "is not responsive to valid international agreed operational requirements, but reflect the intent to apply satellite technology regardless of the needs or cost."

FORDYCE, Ark. (AP)—Officials said Miss Sally Bradley, 64, of Bearden (Ouachita County) died early Sunday in a fire that destroyed her home.

Candidates Speak at Sheridan

SHERIDAN, Ark. (AP)—Seven gubernatorial candidates spoke on a variety of subjects Saturday at an "old-fashioned political rally" attended by about 250 persons.

The candidates attending included five Democratic candidates—Bob Compton of El Dorado; Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell of Benton; Bill Wells of Hermitage; Bill Cheek of West Memphis and James Malone Jr. of Lonoke. Lester Gibbs of North Little Rock, a Republican candidate, and Walter Carruth of Lexa, the American Party in Arkansas candidate, also spoke.

Cheek called for unity within the Democratic party to rid the state of what he called the "Rockefeller blight."

On prison reform, Cheek said he could run the Arkansas prisons at a profit and that he was tired of "coddling" prisoners.

Cheek also said he was opposed to the proposed new constitution which he labeled "liberal."
